We are proud to introduce our new parent coaching series, designed to support you and your family where you need it most...at home

Join other parents around the country on Thursday, March 5, 7:00pm MST, to learn from Vive's Parent Coaches about how to use a love-based parenting model with your child. This empowering and informative conference call is for those of you who just don't know what to do next and for those of you at your wits end with your child's behavior.

With our parent coaching teams:

You will learn how to apply the love-based parenting model used by Vive Parent Coaches

We will discuss how to be more successful in understanding your child's behavior

We will address a variety of severe behaviors and how to work with your child

You will learn practical ways to create deeper connection and trust within your family and you will learn how successful you can be in creating a nurturing home.

Leslie Potter and Rohini Ross, certified Beyond Consequences Institute (BCI) facilitators, will address your questions on the call and demonstrate the support and clarity that comes from engaging with your own personal Parent Coaches. It is time to start loving again.

A limited number of spots are available on the call so RSVP early to reserve your spot Share this with a friend or client. We look forward to hearing from you.

Keep keeping on,

Michael Behmer
